RE: Young-Wolff, et al. v. Scholastic Corp., No. 1:14-cv-05089 (LLS) (JCF)

Dear Judge Stanton and Judge Francis,

This firm is counsel for Plaintiffs in the above-referenced copyright infringement case against Defendant Scholastic Corp. (“Defendant” or “Scholastic”). We write to request that the Court issue a Rule 16(b)(1) scheduling order as required under Rule 16(b)(2).

This case was filed on July 8, 2014 and Defendant appeared through counsel in this action on July 16, 2014. (See Dkt. Nos. 1 & 3.) It has now been more than 120 days since Defendant was served with the complaint and more than 90 days since Defendant appeared in this action through counsel. Plaintiffs thus request that the Court issue the scheduling order as required under Rule 16(b)(2). Plaintiffs submit that this is not a complicated case and thus five months of discovery should be sufficient.

Under Rule 26(f)(1), the parties were required to already have held the parties’ conference required under Rule 26(f)(2). Plaintiffs have submitted a proposed Discovery Plan as required under Rule 26(f)(3) to Defendant’s counsel for review and will promptly confer with opposing counsel on these matters and submit a proposed Discovery Plan to the Court shortly.

Respectfully submitted,

Kevin McCulloch
